

What's New at the Alternative Fuels Data Center OCTOBER 2002

Listed below are new publications and other information made available in October through the U.S. Department of Energy's Alternative Fuels Data Center (AFDC). The AFDC is sponsored by the Clean Cities Program in the Office of Energy Efficiency and Renewable Energy (EERE), and is managed by the National Renewable Energy Laboratory. For more information, with questions, or to subscribe to this monthly update, contact Wendy Dafoe at wendy_dafoe@nrel.gov, or call 303-275-4470.

This update is posted on the Web at www.ccities.doe.gov/toolbox/coord_news.shtml.

Two EERE programs have teamed their efforts for R&D on heavy hybrids. DOE's FreedomCAR and Vehicle Technologies Program Office will cost-share R&D on heavy hybrid propulsion systems. See the Advanced Heavy Hybrid Vehicle Web site at www.ctts.nrel.gov/heavyhybrids.

What's New: Fall 2002 Update from the State and Alternative Fuel Provider (S&FP) Program discusses vehicle acquisitions and reporting. Available in hard copy or on the Web at http://www.ott.doe.gov/epact/pdfs/whatsnew_fall_02.pdf. A complete list of S&FP publications is on the Web at <http://www.ott.doe.gov/epact/resources.shtml>.

Washington Metropolitan Area Transit Authority Biodiesel Fuel Comparison Final Data Report, a nine-page summary of the data collected as part of this project. On the Web at http://www.afdc.doe.gov/pdfs/wvu_biodiesel_report.pdf.

Pathways for Natural Gas into Advanced Vehicles. Available on the Web in two parts.

Part A: Technology and Fuels for a New Generation of Vehicles

Part B: Examples of New Generation Vehicles. This report reviews the future fuels and "engines" for motor vehicles with particular reference to the part that natural gas may play.

Download both parts from the IANGV Web site <http://reports.iangv.org/#path>. You have to register on the Web site to download the report, but it is free.

From DOE's FreedomCAR Partnerships Reducing Petroleum Use is Vital to Our Nation's Long-Term Energy Security is a quick one-page summary of important usage statistics. On the Web at <http://www.ott.doe.gov/pdfs/203.pdf>.

Congratulations to the Clean Cities coalitions that held successful Advancing the Choice events in October. The Hampton Roads Clean Cities Coalition has posted some pictures and a quick summary of their October event on the Web at www.hrccc.org/overview.html.
